

MEET THE BRAVO cc TEAM/2020

Nice to Meet You

I am excited to introduce you to our team. 2020 marks the 16th year for Bravo cc and our team is growing not just in numbers but in quality too.

You are a reflection of the company you keep--so I assume that means I am smart, interesting, fun, and generous because the Bravo cc team is all of these things and more.

As a business owner I carefully assembled this team to offer you new and interesting ways to bring Bravo cc content to your events, projects, and team. Each of our speakers and facilitators have YEARS of experience as well as areas of expertise that fit in perfectly to the Bravo cc mission to educate, liberate, and entertain.

Without further delay, meet our team...

Diane joined the Bravo cc team in 2015 as our professional and executive coach as well as a keynote speaker and workshop facilitator. She loves teaching people how to move through fear, gain confidence clarity and courage, get results with velocity, break through barriers and ask for what you want and get it. Her listening skills are second to none and she possesses this rare intuitive ability to ZERO in on the thing that is the thing. Like the real thing, not the surface level stuff but the stuff that matters, the hard stuff--those things that are holding us back from our own success. Her keynotes include:

ASK FOR WHAT YOU WANT and GET IT!

Being able to ask for what you want is critical to achieving results in all areas of your life. In this fun and informative keynote presentation, Diane unpacks the reasons that we struggle to ask for what we want. She shares her own struggle to step up and speak her wants and needs and shows you how she has learned to ask for what she wants. Today she understands that it is her ability to ask that has given her the confidence and clarity around building a business as a coach and speaker. Her approach is powerful, practical, and profound. You learn how to quiet your fears and start getting what you want. The future belongs to those who are ready and willing to ask. Are you ready?

KILLER CONFIDENCE: 3 Secrets to Feel Confident

It is a chronic problem...People regularly allow past failures to hold them back from being a powerful leader. They stop speaking up because they are afraid of being wrong and don't want to risk not looking good. Don't let the past define your future. In this program you get the 3 high impact secrets to awaken the power within you and learn how to step confidently into a new future.

The Velocity-Raptor: Get Results Faster

Velocity is the rate of change of the position of a body in a specified direction. For example, your velocity to sit on the patio and drink a margarita is likely different than your velocity to get your taxes done. Right? But you know that getting your taxes done, while laborious and painful is more important to your success than that margarita. In a marketplace that requires your velocity to be at a certain pace and the need to produce results faster than ever before, it makes sense that you build skill sets around getting results, faster. In this fun and informative keynote, Diane shares how she has accelerated her business outcomes by embracing solid principles that produce results.

JENNY Warren

Listen Learn Lead

–Available to Keynote,

–Areas of expertise:
Mindfulness, Generations in the Workplace, Public Speaking,
Communication

–Travels from Dallas, TX

– Fees are $4500 for Keynote and Facilitation. Fees for consulting and coaching are based on project scope

To book JENNY, go to https:// www.bravocc.com/contact/ and tell us about your event/project

Jenny joined the Bravo cc team in 2017 when I invited her to collaborate with me as my research partner and co-author of our book Talking 'Bout My Generation. We both share an affinity for this topic and Millennials in particular. It makes sense as we made the college classroom our home for many years--starting at the same time that Millennials were coming to the college campus. Jenny is a master facilitator--and that is not a term I use for many people. It takes YEARS to reach this level and for the last fifteen years she has done just that as a college professor, teaching communication studies courses. Today Jenny is focused on helping people connect MINDFULNESS to how they communicate and build better relationships with self and others. Jenny has a fierce sense of humor and a Mid-Western sensibility that allow her to quickly connect and get to work--because there are important things to accomplish.

TALKING BOUT MY GENERATION

Generations should be your GREATEST strength, not your BIGGEST headache

There are FOUR generations in the workplace today and boom! bam! pow! the fireworks show can't be missed! It is time to step away from the finger pointing, blanket statements, and trash talk about each other and find common ground. Relying on tired and cliched generational stereotypes about one another do little to promote an environment where people are inspired to do great work by collaborating with one another. If you are tired of the tone of the generations conversation, this talk will be a breath of fresh air. No name calling. No labels. Just a desire to learn and do better.

THE MINDFUL MINDSET SHIFT:

Mindfulness has been shown to positively affect conditions like insomnia, asthma, anxiety, stress, headaches, grief, fatigue, chronic illness, and feelings of hopelessness. But in a culture that tells you your value is tied up in how busy you are, how much you get done in a day, and how stressed out you are, it can be hard to accept that a MINDFUL change is what you need. Join me and learn what mindfulness is, how to do it, and what changes you will experience when you embrace a mindful mindset. You will tame your inner lizard brain, shift your mindset, institute new daily practices, and see the benefits first hand. This shift will be life changing as you watch your relationship with yourself improve, your relationship with others improve, your energy and performance increases and your overall feelings of happiness skyrockets. Let's get to work.

Libby is the founder of Bravo cc, a Communications and Consulting Venture, that works with professionals and corporations from across the United States to stand out in a crowded and competitive marketplace. Since 2004 she has developed the highest quality training and leadership programs, all designed to help her clients communicate with power, confidence and integrity. She owns every stage she is on from the corporate classroom to national conferences.

The author of three books, Libby has a love for writing and teaching. She is gifted at challenging people to get out of their comfort zone and try new things. Whether coaching executives from the C-Suite to working with a team to close a multi-million dollar sale, developing successful leadership programs for corporations, or captivating an audience from the conference stage, Libby's troublemaking tendencies may be her greatest strength. She is not afraid to ask the tough questions or have the conversation for the purpose of making BIG things happen. Her Keynotes include:

Signature Keynote: What's Your Plan Be?: Name it, Claim it, Live it (includes book)

Talking 'Bout My Generation: Four generations in the Workplace Should Be Your Greatest Asset, Not Your Biggest Headache (includes book)

I've hired a lot of speakers and the great ones who get the best feedback and make me look good have three qualities... They customize, they entertain and their message has practical, real world take-aways. Libby checks every box. She knew our audience, drove engagement with fun exercises and presented a substantial message in bite size pieces that one could use right away. I wouldn't hesitate to recommend her to my best clients and friends. Dustin Cordier, NBAA 2019
